UNL'S LOVE LIBRARY BOOK ART

“Heart & Hands 2013: A Fourth National Juried Book Art Exhibition for Students” is on display through May 31 at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln’s Love Library on the city campus.

Graduate and undergraduate students from accredited academic institutions were able to submit books for the exhibition. Fifty-six artists submitted 82 works for the juried exhibition, and 47 works were accepted for the exhibition. The accepted works came from students in 18 states and Canada.

Four students from UNL were accepted for the show: Jamie Aldag, a senior art major from Lincoln, Neb.; Mikaela Davis, a senior art major from Lincoln, Neb.; Camille Hawbaker, a graduate printmaking student from Eagan, Minn.; and Adrienne Smart, a graduate printmaking student from Sandy, Utah.

Hawbaker also received the Award for Experiential Engagement of the Viewer and Purchase Award for her entry, “Beyond, Between.”

This year’s juror was Barbara Tetenbaum, an artist working in printed books and installation and professor at Oregon College of Art and Craft. She founded her imprint, Triangular Press, in 1979, and this work can be found in many private and public collections in the U.S. and abroad. She is the recipient of two Fulbright Lecture awards to teach in Germany and the Czech Republic.

Her other honors include a Koopman Distinguished Chair at the Hartford Art School in 2012 and a Sally Bishop Fellowship at the Book Arts in New York City in 2011. She received her Bachelor of Science in fine art from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and her Master of Fine Arts in printmaking from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

Heart & Hands 2013 is sponsored by the Lincoln Print Group, the UNL Department of Art and Art History, Love Library and the Nebraska Book Arts Center.

Love Library is located at 13th and R sts. The Heart & Hands display is located on the second floor study area in Love Library North.

EVERY CHURCH IN NEBRASKA CITY

The Kimmel Harding Nelson Center for the Arts (KHN) presents an exhibition of large format black and white photographs by Arlington, VA based photographer Andrew Zimmermann.

While previously in residence at the KHN Center, Zimmermann used his large-format camera to document the interior and exterior of each of the 23 churches with a Nebraska City address. He returns to Nebraska City this spring to share the finished and framed prints in an exhibition at the KHN Center that opens on Monday, May 6.

A reception for the artist is scheduled for Thursday, May 9 from 5 - 7 p.m. Following the close of the exhibition on Thursday, June 20, the framed prints of each church will be donated to the respective location by the artist with framing made possible with support from the Nebraska City Fine Arts Committee & Blum’s Framing.

The Kimmel Harding Nelson Center for the Arts is located at 801 3rd Corso in Nebraska City & is open Monday - Thursday from noon to 4 p.m. For more info, call 402-874-9600 or visit www.khncenterforthearts.org.
